"On awakening in the morning I felt tired and Lawyer Lauterbach assented to this, and Judge Trunk set down the hearing for a week from to-ay. The officers of the Panama Ralicoal Company make light of the state-ments of Mr. Lauterback that the rights of Americans on the lathmus have been imperilled by the recent collapse of the Fanama Canal and the appointment of M. Moschicourt as receiver of the Company.

According to Secretary Opponheim, instead of conflicting with American increases the Panama Ralicoad Company is actually the champion of the American cause on the Isthmus. What it is doing, he says, is refusing to make itself a party to a monopoly, and it is openly striving to encourage American shipping and the formation of new lines.

"The Company," he stys, "is anxious to have American ships sailing regularly between New York and Colon to assist it in its business. There are no French or foreign luterests of any kind involved in it, except so far as the ownership of stock is concerned. The rupture with the Pacific Mail will open a valuable trade to competing steamship companies."
